

Dear Corporate Community Leader:

When companies and causes connect, everyone wins. If your company is committed to being a good corporate neighbor through employee volunteer efforts, then joining the Corporate Volunteer Council of Orange County (CVCOOC) is for you.

Founded in 2012, the Corporate Volunteer Council of Orange County (CVCOOC) connects professional leaders in community involvement with educational, networking, and service opportunities to increase the benefit of corporate volunteerism on companies and communities in Orange County. Since its inception, CVCOOC has won two awards from Points of Light.

As an active Member, your company can advance your corporate citizenship efforts as a recognized leader in the Orange County business community. CVCOOC will support you in identifying Orange County's critical community needs and aligning your employee volunteer efforts as a solution. By working together, we can maximize the impact of our volunteer resources.

Here are some of the benefits of your CVCOOC membership:

- Provide a forum and networking opportunity for exchange of ideas and resources among Orange County businesses to advance employee volunteerism
- Increase the visibility of company volunteer efforts and the impact of your volunteerism
- Provide tools and professional development for volunteer coordinators and team leaders
- Provide leadership development and team building learning opportunities for businesses through employee volunteer efforts
- Make collective impact through annual corporate combined volunteer service project to leverage resources
- Access to the OneOC Knowledge Center

As a member, we ask that representatives actively engage in activities and leadership roles to maximize the benefits for all. Please see enclosed response form for annual membership fees and calendar of events. For more information, contact Shelia Teevans at steevans@OneOC.org. We look forward to working together to build a stronger, more vibrant Orange County.
